Affordable Ways to Give Back

When something is valuable, you want to handle it with care, to preserve it so that it lasts. That same instinct also drives many of our supporters to invest in the future of the University of Maryland. If UMD has positively impacted your life and you want others to benefit from that same experience in the future, here are four simple options to make a meaningful gift with ease.

1. INCLUDE UMD IN YOUR WILL OR LIVING TRUST.
   One of the most popular and easiest ways to support UMD is to remember us in your will. Adding a gift to your will or trust is actually quite easy. Simply ask your attorney to draft a codicil or an amendment to the existing document. If you don’t have a will or trust, you will want your attorney to craft a new document that includes your gift.

   For sample language you can share with your attorney to complete a gift in your will or trust, please contact us.

2. NAME THE UNIVERSITY AS A BENEFICIARY OF A RETIREMENT ACCOUNT.
   This arrangement is one of the most tax-smart ways to support us after your lifetime. If your loved ones are the beneficiaries of your retirement plans, federal income taxes alone can erode a significant percentage of the amount they receive from your plan. In contrast, as a nonprofit institution, we bypass any taxes and receive the full amount.

   To arrange this gift, contact your plan administrator for a change-of-beneficiary form. Name the University of Maryland, along with the percentage you would like us to receive, on the beneficiary form. Then return the form to your plan administrator.

3. DESIGNATE US AS A BENEFICIARY OF A LIFE INSURANCE POLICY.
   This is a low-cost way to make a large gift. When you first bought a life insurance policy, you most likely wanted to protect the financial stability of your family should anything happen to you. If your circumstances have changed so that the original purpose for the protection no longer applies, we hope you’ll consider naming UMD as a beneficiary of a policy so we can use your gift to support UMD students after your lifetime.

   To complete your future gift, contact your insurance company or agent and request a beneficiary designation form. Then mail it back to the insurance company.

4. PROVIDE SUPPORT WITH YOUR BANK AND BROKERAGE ACCOUNTS.
   Most states allow you to designate loved ones and favorite causes to benefit from your bank account after your passing. In fact, this is one of the most straightforward ways to extend your support for UMD into the future.

   For us to benefit from your checking account, savings account or CDs, you must make them payable on death* to our organization.

   To leave us funds from your brokerage or investment accounts, you must place a transfer-on-death* designation on them. Simply contact your bank representative or broker for instructions on how to complete your gift.

   * State laws govern payable-on-death accounts and transfer-on-death accounts. Consult with your bank representative or investment advisor to consider these types of gifts.
Even 1% Matters

Your gift doesn’t have to be a specific amount. Donating a percentage of your estate is also a good option. You may be surprised to find that even a small percentage can have a big impact at UMD.
Give a Gift That Endures

When you extend your support of the University of Maryland with a gift in your will or living trust or through a beneficiary designation, you join a visionary group of donors who have discovered the beauty of these powerful investments. Along with the personal satisfaction of giving back, additional benefits include:

- FLEXIBILITY. You are free to alter your plans at any time.
- VERSATILITY. You can structure your gift in different ways: a specific amount of money, a piece of property or a percentage of your estate (to ensure that your gift remains proportionate to your estate size).
- SECURITY. You retain control over your assets should you need them during your lifetime. Also, with a gift from your residuary estate (what remains after specific gifts, taxes, debts and final expenses are satisfied), you can be sure that your loved ones receive what you intend before UMD receives a gift.

Beneficiary designations can be modified at any time to meet your changing needs. Your assets may never reach your intended recipients if you’ve failed to keep the beneficiary designations up to date. Experts suggest reviewing them every two to three years when you look over your entire estate plan.
